

Why settle for mediocrity when you can simply have the best in this world?

You want the best essay plans and content to reduce your exam preparation time. You want efficient lessons with a focused curriculum strategy to accelerate your mastery of essential comprehension and writing skills. You want the sharpest insights, philosophy and research from around the world to give you that edge that is so necessary in this competitive era.

You want and desire that seemingly elusive A grade for EL and GP.

At TTT, we know what you want and we will get you to your goals. Our teachers are passionate award-winning MOE-trained teachers, with the required training (minimum Masters/phD) in EL/GP-related fields of politics, global studies and sociology from global prestigious universities. With such strong credentials, there is honestly not many such elite candidates available in the teaching profession, and we are actively hiring all of them to form this dream team. Why settle for just any tutor or ex-MOE teacher, when you can learn from the best?

And that's not all. A clear winning strategy is of paramount importance. With a 14-member research team led by award-winning secondary and JC teachers, as well as an ex-NIE researcher, we deconstruct the syllabus to craft the perfect strategy at both the macro structural and micro individual skill level, with step-by-step formulas, tailored to your individual learning needs. You can be assured that TTT will be your one and only solution to your EL/GP issues.

Our fun learning experience

At TTT, we believe strongly in developing good rapport with our students. Teachers serve both as academic coach as well as life coach, to nurture our kids with the winning mentality to take on any challenges in life.

A fun and pleasant environment for our students will ensure that they look forward towards class, and is a crucial, necessary pre-requisite in their journey towards excellence. The centre is equipped with nice sofa armchairs and a study area for self-revision and consultation, as well as board games and lightsabers which they can play to bond with their classmates and teachers during the school holidays (or during the post-exam period). At TTT, we believe that learning should always be fun and engaging!
